INTERNATIONAL MIGRATION REVIEW

An interdisciplinary quarterly publishing sociodemographic, economic, political, historical and legislative analyses of human migration movements and refugees.

Forthcoming Special Issues (1984-1986)

These issues provide an extensive and comprehensive analysis of a single topic in the area of migration studies:

UNDOCUMENTED MIGRANTS: AN INTERNATIONAL PERSPECTIVE

A long awaited special issue discussing the global nature of illegal immigration. This issue reviews experiences worldwide with illegal migration and the various attempts to cope with it. Emphasis is on the concrete experience rather than policy speculation.

WOMEN IN MIGRATION

The articles in this volume comprise an inquiry into the variation of migration patterns which are sex-specific all over the world. This issue examines the process of female migration in different socio-economic, political and cultural contexts.

THEORY AND PRACTICE OF MEASUREMENT OF INTERNATIONAL MIGRATION

A new growing body of important methodological and procedural innovations have begun to be explored, IMR, therefore, is devoting an entire issue to the current state of this topic.

REFUGEES

This issue will focus on new developments; including questioning of resettlement strategies in third countries; disputes over criteria and processes for granting asylum; emphasis on in situ solutions through permanent integration and more.

CIVIL RIGHTS AND SOCIOPOLITICAL PARTICIPATION OF IMMIGRANTS

The thrust of this issue is to survey the experience in developing and implementing international agreements, national legislation and practice, developments in international law.

TEMPORARY WORKER PROGRAMS: MECHANISMS, CONDITIONS, CONSEQUENCES

This issue would present an examination of the various types of temporary worker programs and temporary migration streams.

Editorial Procedures: In order to provide impartiality in the selection of manuscripts for publication, all papers deemed appropriate for IMR are sent out anonymously to readers. To protect anonymity, the author's name and affiliation should appear only on a separate cover page. IMR has the right to first publication of all submitted manuscripts. Manuscripts submitted to IMR cannot be submitted simultaneously to another publication. Submit three copies and retain a copy for your own files. Manuscripts submitted to IMR are not returned. Authors are not paid for accepted manuscripts. If manuscripts are accepted and published all rights, including subsidiary rights are owned by the Center for Migration Studies. The author retains the right to use his/her article without charge in any book of which he/she is the author or editor after it has appeared in the Review.

Preparation of Copy:

1 Type all copy—including indented matter, footnotes and references—double spaced on white standard paper.

2 Type each table on a separate page. Insert a location note e.g., "Table 2 about here", at the appropriate place in the text.

3 Type footnotes (double spaced) on separate sheets. Footnotes should never be placed in the body of the text. Footnotes should include grant numbers or credits but not author's affiliations.

4 Draw figures on white paper with India ink. Send the original drawings with the manuscripts; they will be returned to the author if the manuscript is not published.

5 Number all pages consecutively including those with tables and footnotes.

6 Include an abstract of not more than 100 words which summarizes the findings of the papers.

Format of Text:

All references to monographs, articles and statistical sources are to be identified at an appropriate point in the text by last name of author, year of publication and pagination where appropriate, all within parentheses. Footnotes are to be used only for substantive observations and not for the purpose of citation. However, footnotes are discouraged. There is no need for "Ibid.",. "op cit." or "loc cit", specify subsequent citations of the same source in the same way as the first citation. Examples follow:

1 If author's name is in the text, follow it with year in parentheses ("... Duncan (1969) had proven that...). If author's name is not in the text, insert at an appropriate point the last name and year, separated by a comma. ("... some have claimed (cf., Gouldner 1943) that...".

2 Pagination (without "p" or "pp") follows year of publication separated by a colon ["... it has been noted (Lipset, 1964:61-4) that ..."Incorporate within parentheses any brief phrase associated within the reference. ["... have claimed that this is so (See, Jones, 1952:99 for conflicting view)"].

3 With dual authorship, give both last names: for more than two, use "et al". For institutional authorship supply minimum identification from the beginning of the complete citation. ["... occupational data (U. S. Bureau of the Census, 1963:117) revealed..."]

4 If there is more than one reference to the same author and year, distinguishthem by use of letter (a, b) attached to year of publication, in text and in reference appendix. ["... as was previously suggested (Levy, 1965a:311)...]

5 Enclose a series of references within a single pair of parentheses and separate by semicolons. ["... as many have noted (Johnson 1942; Perry, 1947; Linguist, 1984)...]

Forms of References in Appendix:

List all items al;phabetically by author and, within author(s), by year of publication, in an appendix titled "REFERENCES". For multiple authors or editors listings (more than two), give the first author only and ad "et al.". Use Italics for titles of books and journals. For typing format, see the following examples:

Fragomen, A. J.
1973a "Constitutional Rights of Aliens upon Arrest"/ International Migration Review. 7(1):67-71. Spring.

1973b "Judicial Decisions of Interest" International Migration Review, 7(4):457-459. Winter.
